Elysia launches Morpheus8

Lisa Claypole, owner of Elysia, a skin, body and aesthetics clinic in Tansor near Oundle, is thrilled to announce that she is now offering Morpheus8, a powerful, subdermal fractional micro-needling radio frequency (RF) technology with extraordinary proven results. Elysia is the only clinic in the area to offer this state-of-the-art treatment and you can see it for yourself at the launch day on Thursday 10 November. Local Living caught up with Lisa to find out more

LISA Claypole established Elysia in 2002 with the ethos of using advanced technology in combination with clean, healthy living – excellent nutrition, regular exercise, etc – for the good of clients. (Lisa is a qualified nutritionist and personal trainer in addition to being a highly skilled aesthetician.) The clinic offers the most advanced evidence-based treatments, carried out to the highest level of safety, with the focus always on what is right for the client. Lisa carries out extensive research, and she and her team undergo continued professional development to keep on top of new advances in the field. It's what has led Lisa to InMode's Morpheus8, an incredible-sounding piece of kit that has been receiving rave reviews in recent years, with before/after results speaking for themselves. The technology hit the headlines in this country when Judy Murray underwent the treatment in 2020/21 – with the tennis coach (and mum of tennis champions Jamie and Sir Andy Murray), receiving extensive admiration for her impressively rejuvenated appearance.

Lisa explains: 'This is a treatment that I've personally wanted to introduce into the clinic for some time. I'm so excited and thrilled to be able to work with InMode and take your results to another level by offering this prestigious treatment.'

'The best part... I know after my own treatment journey experience that the skin improvements and long-term skin-health results are exceptional.' And she adds: 'I also didn't think it hurt.'

THIS MONTH, AS LISA EXCLUSIVELY LAUNCH MORPHEUS8 IN OUR REGION, LET'S TAKE A CLOSER LOOK AT WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT...

What is Morpheus8?

Morpheus8 is a device that combines microneedling with radio frequency for skin tightening and lifting. The treatment stimulates collagen production in different layers of the skin to help tighten and smooth, revealing a more radiant and youthful appearance. It is minimally invasive and also has minimal downtime. Clients can rest assured that it is approved by the FDA.

How does it work?

It works by the needles at the tip of the device penetrating deep into the skin and fat, essentially causing trauma that requires repair; this then results in skin tightening, lifting and contouring by restoring natural collagen and elastin. By kickstarting natural collagen production, the treatment results in a smoother, more contoured appearance.

The fact that the body is repairing itself is something that Lisa at Elysia is hugely passionate about. Judy Murray picks up on this point too: 'The lines on my face have softened significantly and what I love about it most is how many people are noticing and saying "What have you had done to your skin" and then I tell them it's all a natural treatment and thanks to Morpheus8.'

What is so special about it?

The Morpheus8 microneedles go deeper than any RF microneedling device on the market, which makes the treatment so effective. It causes less trauma on the skin than other devices due to its needle configuration and the number of needles and the way in which the energy is delivered into skin.

Who is a good candidate for Morpheus 8?

Anyone who wants to improve fine lines, wrinkles and skin laxity could benefit from Morpheus8. It works on a wide range of skin types.

Which areas is it used on?

Any areas of the face or body showing wrinkles, discolouration or acne scarring are suitable for treatment. Lisa notes that she has been especially impressed by treatments on the lower face and neck.

How many treatments are usually needed – and how often?

Depending on your consultation, you would typically have 3 sessions to start with and then a single treatment annually for maintenance.

I think I've seen it in the press and on social media...

It has received incredible press. As mentioned, it has been used on Judy Murray, and it has many other famous devotees. Kim Kardashian calls it 'a game changer', while British tv star Amanda Holden says: 'The results have been absolutely amazing... I'm more than happy to shout from the rooftops about how brilliant this new treatment is. It's the best hour's investment for looking at least 5 years younger.' Hollywood actor Eva Longoria recently became InMode's Global Brand Ambassador as a result of her own positive experience of their technologies, including Morpheus8.

NEED TO KNOW...

- 1 FDA-approved, Morpheus8 combines micro-needling with directional radiofrequency to tighten, contour and lift face and body.
- 2 It uses deep fractional technology, penetrating 0.5mm–7.0mm, and it has an additional heat profile of 1.0mm.
- 3 Morpheus8 microneedles go deeper than any RF microneedling device currently on the market.
- 4 The device has a variety of disposable tips, enabling targeted treatment of specific facial and body areas.
- 5 It's safe on skin types I–IV with little risk of post-inflammatory hyperpigmentation, meaning it suits a wide range of clients.
